Marionettes to Perform In Aid of Students' Home

Knights in Armor, Chargers, Kings, Queens, Princesses and Fairies Are to Appear in Thackeray's Pantomime, "The Rose and the Ring," at Plaza

The entertainment for the benefit of the Ely Alumnæ Association at the Plaza on Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock will be out of the ordinary, and judging from the way the tickets are selling a large sum will be raised for the $100,000 fund for the purpose of building a new home for students in New York City. Tony Sarg's famous Marionettes will perform Thackeray's highly entertaining pantomime, "The Rose and the Ring." Knights in shining armor, fierce white chargers, carrying lions, kings, queens, princesses and fairies, modelled after Thackeray's drawings, will take possession of the stage and participate in one of the most unusual entertainments of the season.

It will be under the patronage of Mrs. Lewis Colt Albro, Mrs. Samuel Sloan Auchincloss, Mrs. Raymond T. Baker, Mrs. Norman S. Dike, Mrs. Holland S. Duell, Mrs. Mary Boies Ely, Mrs. Howard Greenleaf, Mrs. William Hall, Mrs. William Knight, Mrs. Alton Sherwood Keeler, Mrs. Frank Ludlum, Mrs. Alfred Maury Morris, Mrs. Frederick S. Perkins, Mrs. Edward R. Peters, Lady Green-Price, Mrs. James P. Robinson, Mrs. Nottan Squire and Mrs. Francis Stearns.

Tickets may be had from Mrs. M. B. Gifford, 50 East Sixty-first Street, or at the Plaza on the day of the performance.

The first in a series of Saturday morning matinees for young people was given at the Hotel Vanderbilt yesterday under the auspices of the American Free Milk for Italy. The program was given by the Marionettes, Miss Gertrude H.F. Reutter, Miss Ursula Cox Kendall and Miss Mary Gossler, who sang songs in costume; Miss Sidney Thompson, who sang folk songs for children; and Miss Gertrude H.F. Reutter, who told stories with piano accompaniment. The entertainment was for the benefit of the Bambino League, a junior auxiliary of the Free Milk for Italy, of which Mrs. John A. Drake is president and which is under the direction of Miss Louise La Salle.

Next Saturday's matinee will include a play entitled "Lima Beans," produced by the Marionettes under the direction of Remo Bufano. There also will be recitations by little Miss Pauline Gullick. The patronesses will include the Baroness Jacqueline Komano Aveziana, Mrs. Dix Albertini, Mrs. Enrico Caruso, the Duchess de Chaulnes, Mrs. Peter Larsen, Mrs. Edward N. Invitations have been sent to several hundred of these mothers in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Pennsylvania.

An original musical frolic entitled "Oh! Doctor!" will be given by the young women of the Central School on Friday evening, at the Hotel Plaza, for the benefit of the charity fund of St. Mathew's Church, West Eighty-fourth Street. The performance will be followed by dancing.

Among those who will take part are Miss Dorothy Reed, Miss Margaretta Shanahan, Miss Dorothy Royster, Miss Elizabeth Fife, Miss Elizabeth Lockett, Miss Amanda Coke, Miss Jennie Coke, Miss Letitia Magoffin, Miss Helen Aaron, Miss Joyce Gilleland, Miss Mary Budd Stewart, Miss Maury Crawford, Miss Sybil Goodman, Miss Mary Bell, Armbricht, Miss Morie Cooper, Miss Florence Watkins, Miss Sammy Solmson, Miss Robbie Bobo, Miss Nina Simon, Miss Mona Simon, Miss Wanda Welles, Miss Clara Hood, Miss Grace Gunter, Miss Mary Williams, Miss Minnie Hoyte Hicks, Miss Dorothy Shurtliff, Miss Ann Hathaway, Miss Muriel Hudson, Miss Grace O'Neill, Miss Jean Culbertson, Miss Anne Green, Miss Lucy Tull and Miss Rebecca Traube.

Tickets may be had at the school, 241 Central Park West, and at the Plaza. Some of the boxholders are Mrs. Frederick H. Eaton, T. Coleman du Pont, Frank B. Carpenter, Robert Graves, Joseph W. Jones and Mrs. Frank Merrill Seabans. The performance will be under the personal direction of Mrs. Henry A. Snyers. Each year the pupils interest themselves in some philanthropic work and have already contributed $4,690 to the charity funds of several New York hospitals. During the last two years $1,750 has been contributed to patriotic war funds.

Mrs. Matland Fuller Griggs entertained the directors of the Hudson River Music School yesterday afternoon at her residence, 164 East Seventy-third Street. The ensemble class of the school gave a musical program under the direction of Miss Winifred Rogers. The president of the school is Mrs. Franklyn G. Brown, of Dobbs Ferry, and the treasurer is Mrs. Albert Shaw, of Hastings-on-Hudson.

Miss Amy Baker will give a recital in the Music Room of the Hotel Biltmore Friday afternoon. She will be assisted by Allen McQuah, tenor, and Flora MacDonald Wills, accompanist.

A large gathering of society is assured for the evening of May 10 at the Hotel Commodore, when the Fleet Ball, under the auspices of the Manhattan Navy Club, is to be given for the entertainment of the officers of the Atlantic Squadron and of leading representatives in this country of the Allied navies. The ball, expected to be one of the largest and most brilliant of the waning season, is for the benefit of the campaign to raise $700,000 for the purchase and endowment of the Navy Club house, at 13 and 15 East Forty-first Street.

Mrs. Julian W. Robbins is chairman of the committee on arrangements and among the patronesses are Mrs. Arthur Curtis James, Mrs. James Speyer, Mrs. Lydie Hoyt, Mrs. James L. Barclay and Mrs. William Douglas Sloane.

The entire ballroom floor of the Commodore has been reserved and several orchestras will provide music. The general dancing will be preceded by an elaborate program arranged by George Spink. A feature of this entertainment will be several novelty numbers in which the season's debutantes will take part.

Mrs. Noble McConnell has been made chairman of the Women's Committee for Marines' Mothers' Day exercises to be held at the Mall, Central Park, May 9.

Brilliancey Marks
Mozart Society's
Closing Concert

One Feature Is the Debut of Miss Margaret McCandless as Amateur Terpsichorean in "Tickle Toe" Dance

The New York Mozart Society, Mrs. Noble McConnell president, gave its final concert of the season on Tuesday evening in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Astor and it was one of the most largely attended and brilliant affairs of its kind of the season. The ballroom was so crowded that the late arrivals had to stand throughout the program. Reinald Werrenrath sang, and there were pleasing selections by the choral. A feature was exhibition dancing by Miss Florence Walton and Allen Fagan. The affair also marked the debut as an amateur dancer of Miss Margaret McCandless, a member of the Junior Cabinet. She danced with Mr. Fagan and one of the numbers was the original "Tickle Toe Dance" from "Going Up." She was escorted to the ballroom floor by Mrs. McConnell, Mrs. Donald Alexander Green, chaperon of the Juniors; Miss Evelyn Estabrook, Miss Angela Cochran, chairman of Junior Juniors, and twelve other members of the society.
